

SHAMROCK STREETS

ALEX RICKERT
alex@keysweekly.com

Key Colony Beach goes green for St. Patrick's Day

Kids scrambled for treasures thrown in the streets as golf carts, cars and boats piled high with revelers celebrated the annual Key Colony Beach St. Patrick's Day Parade on March 17. Parade participants included Key Colony Beach commissioners, local businesses, bikers, walkers, first responders – and even a few pooches dressed for the occasion. Presented by the Key Colony Beach Community Association and organized by Larry Smoot, the 2025 parade paid tribute to longtime parade organizer Jack Crowley with signs in his honor.

